Take control of your home office

Chaos before order. Tax papers, the business license, client paperwork—it's all in a pile somewhere, right? If you're doubtful, you may need to get professional about your home office. Here are a few examples to get you on the road to success, and that road runs through well-labeled file cabinets, jars of highlighters and pens, bulletin boards and plastic bins of every shape, size and color.
